

RenaissanceRe Announces $130.0 Million Initial Estimated Net Negative Impact From Storm Sandy

PEMBROKE, Bermuda, December 20, 2012 -- RenaissanceRe Holdings Ltd. (NYSE: RNR) (“RenaissanceRe” or the “Company”) today announced its initial estimated net negative impact from Storm Sandy, which occurred in late October 2012 and resulted in widespread damage to personal and commercial property in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic states. The Company currently expects that losses from Storm Sandy will have a net negative impact of approximately $130.0 million on its fourth quarter 2012 results of operations.

The net negative impact includes the sum of estimates of net claims and claim expenses incurred, earned reinstatement premiums assumed and ceded, lost profit commissions, redeemable noncontrolling interest – DaVinciRe, and other income in respect of ceded reinsurance contracts accounted for at fair value. The Company’s estimates are based on a review of its potential exposures, preliminary discussions with certain counterparties and catastrophe modeling techniques. Given the magnitude and recent occurrence of Storm Sandy, relatively limited claims data received to date, the contingent nature of business interruption and other exposures, the unusual complexity of the coverage and legal issues relating to Storm Sandy, and the other uncertainties inherent in loss estimation, meaningful additional uncertainty remains regarding total covered losses for the insurance industry from Storm Sandy and accordingly, the Company’s estimate is subject to change as new or revised data is received from the Company’s counterparties, and other factors. Accordingly, the Company’s actual net negative impact from Storm Sandy will vary from this preliminary estimate, perhaps materially so. Changes in this estimate will be recorded in the period in which it occurs.
